

J.P. Concert Review

Tina's Back!

On Sunday, September 24, 2000, the Air Canada Centre sizzled with the hard rock sound of Joe Cocker opening for one of America's legendary ladies of all times, Tina Turner. This was Turner's fourth engagement in Toronto, Canada. Tina performed live to a packed house of eager fans at the spectacular Air Canada Centre, venue of the hottest and most exciting entertainment in the world.

Even after 40 years in the entertainment arena, the lady of soul is still true Tina with all the moves, voice and legs associated with this great entertainer. Despite fighting a cold that evening, Tina was the consummate performer, moving and dancing around the stage like she was 20 years old, all for a spectacular 90 minutes of classic Turner entertainment.

With her unique style, mannerisms and awesome stage presence, Tina did not disappoint her fans. In sensational Tina style, she swept her cheering fans away as they rocked and rolled the night away to the sound of soul, what an exciting night!

The show was a surefire hit with the audience. With her unique sound and vocal, backed up by a fabulous band, Tina's showmanship shined bright to the delight of her adoring public. Truly a sensational show and one-of-a-kind amazing performer! On a scale of 1 to 10, we rate this Tina Turner concert a definite 10. Rock on Tina!

Special thanks to Virgin Records and their fabulous P.R. personnel Mr. Tyson Parker. Transportation for J.P. provided by Sonata Entertainment and Limousine Services. Edited by Mary Ferrante.

Written by J.P. from JP Public Relations Inc.

© 2001 CelebrityExtras.com, a division of J.P. Public Relations Inc., Registered 1980. Toronto, Canada